It is a distinct pleasure to write a recommendation on behalf of Mr. Nickolas Harris. Nick has taught at Escuela Internacional Sampedrana (EIS) for the past year and a half. I have had the opportunity to work with Nick during this time and have been exceedingly impressed by his professionalism, and dedication to education.

Nick is a passionate, encouraging, and gifted teacher. His classroom performance is consistently based on high standards for his students as well as for himself. He plans his lessons extremely well, provides clear expectations, and instructs to the individual needs of his students. Nick gives his utmost for the success of his students and consistently performs at a high level, he is a valuable asset to our school. Nick is a dedicated educator and willing to take on any task for the best of the school.

Nick is also the head of our Global Leadership Program which encompasses the Model United Nations (MUN) and Model Organization of American States (MOAS). In one year he has grown this organization from 26 students to over 90 participants signing up this year. He has organized and hosted conferences, search out professional consultants for the program, and won the National Conference of bilingual schools in Honduras in his first year. As well Nick is an entrepreneur, his business deals with SAT Writing Seminars. He has provided our students with training and does commendable work in this area. He is a highly motivated individual and broadens his abilities regular on a regular basis.

It is without hesitation that I highly recommend Nick for any position that he desires. His thorough work ethic, organization, and professional demeanor will allow him to be exceedingly successful in the institution he chooses. If I can be of further assistance please do not hesitate email me at abriggs@seishn.com or abriggsjr2@yahoo.com.

Sincerely,

Austin Briggs Jr.
